

Wedding Tent Gallery – 2011

Maple Park, IL: This is a 40x80 High Peak Pole Tent. Isn't it amazing what some lighting can do? This lighting effect was generated from chandeliers under the tent as well as par can spotlights arranged around the yard.

Burr Ridge, IL: This was a very simple wedding. The chairs for the ceremony were setup near the tent. After the ceremony the chairs would be brought under the tent for a sit down dinner. This tent size is a 30x60 High Peak Pole Tent.

Sycamore, IL: A beautiful farm setting complimented this 40x100 High Peak Pole Tent rental. A white tent, white chairs, white linen, and white wine made for a lovely wedding.

Naperville, IL: This is a huge 60x90 Twin High Peak Pole Tent. It is one of the most elegant tents offered for weddings. Most of the tent utilized cathedral window sidewall, but we covered one side with solid sidewall to block the view of the street.

Elburn, IL: Feature here is a 40x80 High Peak Pole Tent. Cathedral window sidewalls were hung around the tent. Due to the chilly fall nights, we also provided heaters to keep guests comfortable.

St. Charles, IL: This is a 40x60 High Peak Pole Tent. It was a beautiful fall wedding reflected by the changing colors and variety of fall decorations. The tent utilized both solid and window sidewalls in order to meet budget.

DeKalb, IL: We had the opportunity to setup a huge 60x80 Twin High Peak Pole Tent for a very lovely couple. The tent featured clear panel sidewalls which looked amazing. The guests were brought via a tractor ride to the entrance of the tent from the parking lot area.

Hampshire, IL: This is a 30x45 High Peak Pole Tent connected to a 20x20 High Peak Frame tent. The larger tent was used for a sit down dinner and the smaller tent was used as a cocktail area. Again, the tents were draped with beautiful cathedral sidewalls.

Barrington, IL: This is a 60x100 Twin High Peak Pole Tent. We covered the back side with sidewall to protect the guests from the minor wind. Each side pole received a drape and tie which added to the elegance of the wedding.

Elgin, IL: This is a 40x60 High Peak Pole Tent. Right before the guests arrived, it stopped raining and everyone was greeted by a beautiful tent and over-arching rainbow.
